How risky is it?

The value of your investments can go down. Please see the information folder for further details.

Who is this fund for?

For a person seeking potential for growth and income and who is comfortable with the ups and downs of the market.

How much does it cost?

The following shows the fees and expenses you could pay to buy and sell units of the fund.

Ongoing fund expenses

The management expense ratio (MER) includes the management fee described in your policy and operating expenses of the fund. The MER includes the insurance cost of the guarantee. You don't pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the return you get on your investment. For details about how the guarantees work, please refer to your policy. MER (Annual rate as a % of the funds value): 2.24%

Trailing commission

RBC Life Insurance Company pays a trailing commission of up to 0.75% for as long as you own the fund. It is for the services and advice your advisor provides to you. You don't pay these expenses directly. The trailing commission is paid out of the management fee.

Other fees

You may have to pay other fees when you sell or transfer units of the fund. Surrender charges do not apply. However, we reserve the right to charge a $25 fee for each transfer. We also reserve the right to change the amount of this fee from time to time.

We make every effort to ensure the accuracy of our information. The information in this document is published by RBC Life Insurance Company for information purposes only and is not the RBC segregated fund contract. RBC Life Insurance Company is the sole issuer of the RBC segregated fund contract and the guarantor of any guarantee provisions therein. The performance history of the underlying fund(s) has been included for reference purpose only. The performance of the segregated fund will always vary from that of the underlying fund due to timing differences between purchases/redemptions of all funds, and the higher costs of the segregated fund in terms of the guaranteed benefits and certain administrative costs which are exclusive to the segregated fund. Past performance is not indicative of future returns. Any amount that is allocated to a segregated fund is invested at the risk of the contract holder and may increase or decrease in value.
